Member Spotlight

We recently had the privilege to sit down and chat with Park members Kenneth and Sharon Vorpahl who is celebrating 55 years of marriage. Kenneth spent 27 years in the military and before moving to Winchester, he and Sharon lived in Minnesota. Since relocating to Winchester 23 years ago for Kenneth's job, the couple has been coming to Jim Barnett Park regularly. For 15 years, they have walked their dogs through Jim Barnett Park at sunrise to enjoy the beautiful view and sometimes they'd return in the afternoons. Sharon has enjoyed the water aerobics classes at the indoor pool for many years and is now participating in the Aqua Arthritis class. "I love that there is something to do five days a week in the pool," said Sharon. Now, Kenneth will often join her in class as he enjoys the spending time with the other participants. "We have made many friends here and the people are welcoming to anyone who attends class," added Kenneth. The couple enjoys all aspects of Jim Barnett Park and its staff. "The staff are wonderful and are always smiling," commented Sharon. "There are no fake smiles here." In addition to recreation, the Vorpahl's also love to travel and have traveled all over the world. One place on Sharon's list of places to visit is India.

Previous campers will be accepted based on past behavior. No application will be accepted after April 10th, 2016. We're looking forward to another great week!

The Winchester Police Department Kids and Cops is a week-long camp designed to provide nearly 100 local children ages 9-12 with the opportunity to learn about law enforcement and teamwork, form friendships, and have a positive experience. Since its implementation in 2001, the camp has been a great success! This would not have been possible without the support and donations of our sponsors. In addition to our annual kickball tournament, the children participate in law enforcement demonstrations and competitions. We also participate in a community service project so the campers learn the importance of giving back to the community.

The Story of Abram's Delight

"Abram's Delight", the site of five generations of the prominent Hollingsworth family spanning 200 years, has a story of its own.

When Abraham Hollingsworth came to the Valley circa 1728, he was exploring, with the intention of finding a spot to build a home for his family and to establish a mill to supplement his income as a farmer. On this site, he found the answer to his requirements--fertile land and an ample water supply. After receiving a grant for 582 acres, his first dwelling was a log cabin located just to the west of the present house. It is believed that a wooden stockade surrounded the property and that several years before Abraham's death in 1748 he began construction of the house as we know it today. Following the death of his wife, Ann, in 1749, the property passed to their second son, Isaac.

Isaac was a leading member in the local Quaker meeting; it is said that his home was used for worship as it was most likely the largest building in the area. It was referred to as a "mansion" when compared to the log cabins in which his neighbors lived. The builder, Simon Taylor, had completed "Springdale" in 1753. This was the home of another early settler, John Hite, and was located about five miles south of the Hollingsworth property. The stonework in both houses is very similar. Taylor's skill as a stonemason is reflected in the twenty-two inch limestone walls.

When the house came into the possession of the third generation, adaptations had to be made. The new owner, Jonah Hollingsworth, and his wife Hannah Miller Hollingsworth, had thirteen living children and more space was needed. Therefore, around 1800, the west wing or reception room was added, using stone that closely matched that of the original house. He added dormer windows on both the north and south roofs so that his children could sleep on the third floor. He also added a portico (no longer standing) on the south entrance.

One of Jonah's sons, David, acquired the house around 1830 and made many improvements. David, a prominent citizen, wealthy businessman, and community leader, was known for his love of entertaining and hospitality. We know that he made many interior changes to the home. His most spectacular improvement outside the home was the construction of a large lake on the south side of the property, utilizing the plentiful water supply and increasing water flow to this nearby mill. A summer house was built on an island in the lake and a fleet of boats carried visitors back and forth. An interesting note is during these years the Hollingsworth's referred to their home and surrounding property as "Spring Mills."

David's three children, none of whom ever married, inherited the property just two years before the beginning of the War Between the States, an event which greatly affected these three members of the fifth generation of the family. As most properties of the area suffered from the many battles and changes of command, so did the "Abram's Delight" complex. Following the deaths of Jonah Isaac and Mary, only Annie remained in the old home. In her seventies, she soon made arrangements to leave. She promised to give her property to two cousins who lived in Winchester, if they would care for her for the rest of her life. After an agreement was reached, she took her private possessions and closed the house; it remained unoccupied for over 20 years.

In 1943, the city of Winchester purchased the old home and 35 acres of land for two reasons: to preserve the oldest home in Winchester and to protect the water supply provided by the Spring, which they leased for many years. A committee of Winchester-Fredrick County Historical Society members worked tirelessly for nine years to restore the home.

The cabin, which is similar to what Abraham would have lived in dates to around 1780, and was reconstructed on the premises in 1967.

Swim Lesson Registration

Participants have until the day before the first class of the session to register. However, understand it is a first-come, first-enter process. If your child's class is full, you will be put onto a waiting list. If a spot becomes available, spaces are filled in order of the waiting list. You will only be charged if your child is placed in a class. If your child does not get into the session, you will need to re-register for the next sessions. Students on the waiting list do not carry over to the next session. Please do not register for multiple sessions at a time.
